

Chicago Magnificence at Marina City

Smith & Wollensky in Chicago offers guests the ultimate steakhouse experience. From the moment they arrive at the distinguished Marina City restaurant until they part after enjoying a magnificent meal, their visit will be a memorable fine dining event. Upstairs has an outside patio, with downstairs having floor to ceiling glass, just above the river. The more casual and relaxing Wollensky Grill is also on the lower level with its own bar.

Located at 318 N. State St. on the Chicago River, this exquisite restaurant features an impressive collection of early-American art in a distinctive setting. The Flag Room boasts a historical collection of American flags and spectacular view of the Wine Cellar which contains the expansive, award-winning wine inventory.

The Venetian Room is separated from the Main Dining Room by beautiful copper doors and glass windows, while the Butcher Room is a private space just off the main bar. Two architectural clocks adorn the walls of the Clock Room, and the glass-enclosed Kitchen Table Room is in the heart of the kitchen for a truly unique dining experience. The Bridgeview Room affords guests stunning views of the Chicago River.

Turn-of-the-century décor complement the distinguished setting of this steakhouse for impeccably refined taste. Every guest receives special attention and the highest standards of service while enjoying their masterfully prepared meals at Smith & Wollensky in Chicago.

The restaurant is open seven days a week, Monday through Thursday from 11:30 a.m. to 1:00 a.m., Friday and Saturday from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 a.m., and Sunday from 11:00 a.m. to midnight.
